

Networking

PEDA Membership provides access to an extensive and varied professional resource and legislative network. With almost 400 Members, the diverse field of economic development is broadly represented across Pennsylvania.

As the primary statewide organization representing economic development professionals, PEDA provides limitless opportunities to engage in dialogue that supports local, regional and state economic development initiatives. Questions about any phase of a development project, financing, incentives, and permitting, are all at your fingertips.

PEDA provides opportunities to engage in dialogue that supports local, regional and state economic development initiatives.

PEDA provides opportunities at our two annual conferences for economic development professionals and organizations in Pennsylvania to share best practices and experiences that enhance the professional dialogue. This active engagement ensures that Pennsylvania can continue to aggressively position itself to retain, grow and attract businesses and jobs to the Commonwealth.
