

I-86 Innovation Corridor
Director of Workforce Development
Three Rivers Development
Corning, New York

The I-86 Innovation Corridor is a three-county consortium located in New York State's Finger Lakes Wine Country and is seeking to fill the new position of Workforce Director. The job is a strategic and leadership position focused on managing implementation of the recently adopted I-86 Integrated Workforce Strategy. The Director's responsibilities include developing relationships and working in collaboration with the stakeholders, establishing and managing a regional dashboard, maintaining an inventory of workforce supply and demand, convening and facilitating industry sector-based work groups, and serving as the representative of the initiative on region-wide strategic initiatives. The director will have practical experience in community, economic or workforce development, think critically about workforce, business and job development, and have excellent communication skills. Candidates must have at least 5 years work experience with 5+ in a position requiring similar skill sets. The detailed job description is available at <https://www.3riverscorp.com>.
